100 Doses One Dollar Is inseparably connected with Hood's Sarsaparilla, and is true of no other medicine. It is an unanswerable argument as to strength and economy, while thousands testify to its superior blood-purifying and strengthening qualities. A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla contains 100 doses and will last a month, while others will average to last not over a week. Hence, for economy, buy Hood's Sarsaparills.

THE PROSTRATION which follows Diphtheria, and the persistency with which it clings to the patient, are well known to all who have had any experience with this terrible disease. The following letter shows how the restoring and invigorating properties of Hood's overcome it, and how by vitaliz-Sarsaparilla ing the blood it neutralizes and eradicates the poisoned matter from it, bringing to the convalescent the color, life and vigor of robust health.

MESSES, C. I. HOOD & Co.: Gentlemen MESSERS. C. I. HOOD & CO.: Gentlemen—My little girl had the diphtheria last April.
The disease left her very weak, blood poor, with no appetite, and she could not seem to rally from its effects. Hood's SarsapantiLA was recommended by a neighbor. After she had been taking it a few days we noticed a change for the better—she began to eat with a relish. It seemed to take out the poison the disease had left in her blood, the change being very hotlecable in her face.
She took it two months and fully regained her health, much to our delight. We now recommend Hood's Sarsapantilla with a great deal of pleasure. Very truly yours, J. R. SMITH.

One by one the Ranks are Lessening

Henry Dustin Bates, the citizen soldier, whose death occurred at West Fairiee, Aug. 22d, '85, was born in Hartland, Vt. A few years later his father, the late Dustin Bates, Esq., removed with his family to Windsor, Vt. It was in the brightening heyday of young Bates' youth, that the darkening war cloud gathered over the whole land. On his seventeenth birthday, himself and eldest brother were enrolled for service in the Vermont 4th for three years. In the opening of the winter of '61-2, measles prevailed in camp and young Bates was a subject,-wasting typhoid and pacumonia succeeding. When the 4th regiment was preparing to join the forward movement of the army of the Potomac. young Bates had searcely vitality enough to survive the removal from the hospital quarters of Camp Griffin to the U. S. Army Hospital in Philadelphia. The spring of '62 found him unable to take his place in the field, and he acted in the capacity of nurse, until the late autumn, when he became desirous to take the field. At that time the cavalry was found inadequate for the demand of the army movements and transfers became allowable from Tickets only $5. Shares in proportion, the infantry under stated conditions, Young Bates was transferred thence to fill his term of enlistment, and sent to Carlisle barracks, Pa., to be prepared for cavalry service. with Gen. Crook, a hundred miles away. The mission was too hazardous for attempt to be made, except by a volunteer. That volunteer was Sergeant Bates. The first thirty miles he was guided by a road, and the first night offered a safe lodging. Thenceforward it was by trail through a desolate region where, only the hostile Indian roamed. But his unfailing mustang bore him to the presence of Gen. Crook, who, with astonishment, inquired how he dared to come unattended. His business dispatched, he re-
